I have no interest in the address and will not retain records of it.

YOU WILL REQUIRE:

A chastity device.

At least a mobile phone and access to email for the basic service, and the ability to send photographs.

I prefer to check on your device security via Skype. You will not see me on Skype, but must have your camera ON.

EXCLUSIONS:

Write below a brief description of your working week, travel schedule, excursions abroad expected, and any medical issues that may exclude you from carrying out this contract. I can often be flexible with such issues.

ENFORCEMENT:

I will endeavour to chat with you briefly, on Skype, on a daily basis. This is to check that the device is still secure. When this is not possible I will require photographic evidence, with proof of date. The basic chastity service does not include extended chats about your situation or any training, tasks, punishments or restraint. Do not expect to monopolise my time during these inspections. I do not offer video connection on skype, but you must have camera selected.

- 1) If you have a Fetlife identity, I will post your failures for all to see.
- 2) If you require, I can blackmail you into compliance. You can provide an email address for someone who must not know of your submissive nature, and they will be informed should you break this contract.
- 3)

Any blackmail data or contacts are disposed of once the period has been completed. It is purely an incentive for you to maintain control, not for any benefit of mine.
- 4) You will be banned from re-entering the program if you break out of chastity or fail to obey me.
- 5) You may opt to email me a photograph of your face. It will be posted on this website if you fail.
- 6) If you are so desperate for release and self gratification you cannot wait, you will pay Mistress £100

FINANCIAL:

Paying for this program guarantees no level of contact, is non refundable, and the transaction is final

SUBMISSION:

You will address me at all times as Mistress Lola. For the basic chastity locking services you are not required to offer any submission beyond daily proof of the integrity of your device.

SAFETY:

Is your responsibility but I do want this to be a safe experience. You will inform me email immediately should you be experiencing an emergency problem or showing signs of severe sores or bleeding from your device. You will read my safety guidelines on the website. The Mistress accepts no responsibility for injury or harm. Cleanliness, lubrication and care are your responsibility.

PLEAS FOR RELEASE:

You will not be release until either your selected time period expires, or on the Chastity and training program, Mistress decides you have earned a release. Allowing a release on the extended program concludes the indefinite period. You may restart this option at will. By all means plead for release, it amuses me.

You may opt at the end of any period of chastity for relocking, I will be holding a second key to your lock for those who required a padlock posting. Under my guidance you will dispose of the first key.

DISPUTES OR ISSUES:

There will be none. Mistresses word is final in any dispute. You will obey. You may make a case to Mistress should an issue arise, she will consider your case, but her decision is final.

Administration – Mistress will post keys or locks by signed for delivery, royal mail, but accepts no responsibility for losses. Keys will only be posted singly, Mistress will keep one, so that a second may be sent if one is lost.

SECTION 2: Training program.

The basic chastity service is just that, I will control the access to your device, and require proof that the lock is still in place on a regular basis. IT DOES NOT include any tasks, training or other interaction. Mistress Lola's time is valuable, and is dedicated to those requiring the training program.

TRAINING:

The training program will require regular contact and supervision using Skype, tasks and a level of restraint. You will be required to regularly show completion of tasks, maintain a diary on Fetlife, and of course offer complete obedience. My objective will be to push your limits, and expand your submission. Training will develop as I become familiar with your submissive nature. Any hard limits may be expressed before commencement. My connection on Skype is Audio only, but I will require you to have your camera active.

You can gauge the level of interaction from the testimonials on my website.

BASIC EQUIPMENT:

You will require restraints, you may have a selection already, or other bondage equipment, but as a minimum you will need several lengths of chain, and spare padlocks. I would suggest 6 locks.

SISSY TRAINING:

As the owner of a sissy maid, I am highly skilled at handling and managing sissy's and sissy maids. We will progress your current level of sissification. This will also include restraint, punishment and conditioning, but will be more tailored to your progression as a locked sissy. Your training will also include some level of humiliation and degradation, which I will need to be clear from the outset that you can tolerate.

ADDITIONAL EQUIPMENT AND OTHER ITEMS:

I am aware and sensitive to the fact that not everyone has the same financial resources. We may often discuss other equipment, clothing, toys etc during our skype sessions. As I come to appreciate your means, I will not suggest anything that would be too difficult or expensive to obtain, and indeed often make use of basic household items. Should you have the funds, I will often suggest or require you to purchase things.

I understand and accept Mistresses conditions, and wish to be considered for her enforced chastity for the period I have indicated in this contract.
